DEATH KNELL AT LAST

Col. W. J. Bryan Admits That Silver Issue is Dead.

It Will Never Be a Democratic Issue in This Country Again.

COMPLIMENTS ROOSEVELT

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 16.—"I think that free silver will not be considered at the national Democratic convention in 1904."

These words were spoken by William Jennings Bryan to an old and intimate friend, Prof. James W. Bradshaw, of the Iowa commercial college, who met Mr. Bryan on the train. Prof. Bradshaw asserts positively that Mr. Bryan made the following statement:

"While I still believe that free silver would be a good thing for the country, the nations of the world have settled down to a gold basis to such an extent that it would be practically impossible to change the current of their ways, so far as substituting the double for the gold standard is concerned. I think that free silver will not be considered at the national Democratic convention in 1904, and, moreover, I believe it will never again be an issue."

Mr. Bryan, says Prof. Bradshaw, said: "I am out of politics, and will not be a candidate for president again. Roosevelt, doubtless, will be the Republican nominee. He is a man of character, knowledge and statecraft. No man in the Republican party has a firmer hold on the common people, especially in the west. No man can command the respect of nations to a greater degree, or wield a stronger influence over the world at large."

COMES SOMETIMES

BUT IT IS ONLY TO DRAW HIS SALARY.

New York, Oct. 16.—It has been discovered, according to the Herald, that a department employee of this city—one of the "examiners" whose duty it is to pass upon expense accounts of detectives employed by the District Attorney in his efforts to stamp out gambling—is the recognized agent and manager of a system of pool-rooms said to be controlled by an East Side Congressman. It is known that he refused to pass favorably upon the expenditures of the detectives, and the Herald asserts that for a long period the "examiner" has seldom visited his desk except upon pay day.

District Attorney Jerome says the head of the department will have an opportunity to tell what he knows of the matter.

FATHER FINED

SMALL SON WAS THE ONLY WITNESS AGAINST HIM.

Justice Jesse Young this afternoon tried the case against George Bouysou and Ida Weatherford, white, for immorality and fined them $20 and costs each.

The evidence showed that they had been living together as man and wife on a shanty boat when the man had another wife living in the city. His little ten year old son testified against him and was the principal witness. The boy had been staying with his father.

Miss Letha Puryear and Mr. Gordon Head left this afternoon for Paris, Tenn., to attend an entertainment to be given there this evening. Miss Puryear will remain for a visit.

THE TOBACCO MARKET

Paducah is as Good as Any of Them, Say Tobaccoists.

The Italian Contract Will Have No Material Effect on the local Market.

MUCH ROT PUBLISHED DAILY

There is a whole lot of rot being published in some of the papers in this section about the tobacco situation in Paducah, and some people seem to be under the impression that the decision of the Italian government agents not to let a contract in Paducah for tobacco this year will affect the local market. According to well informed tobacco men here this change will not materially affect Paducah.

"The farmers of McCracken, Ballard and Marshall counties will raise just as much tobacco as they have always raised," said one tobacco man to day, "and that usually brought to Paducah will come to Paducah as usual. The farmers certainly will not keep their tobacco. The tobacco is going to be raised, and it will be sold to somebody. It will be brought here as the nearest and best market and sold, just as before. The Italian government may not buy it but somebody else will.

"There has been no change of consequence in the tobacco situation. The Italian government formerly through its branch agency in the United States located in New York, let contracts to the lowest bidder. It now instead lets the contracts to whomever it prefers, not asking any bids. The theory that no one will buy the tobacco that the Italian government formerly bought here is tommy rot. There will be plenty of purchasers. The Italian government is not the only purchaser of tobacco this section has."

The Louisville papers are creating quite a stir over a report that the Continental company will go into the leaf tobacco business. The rumor is not credited here. It is said that the company's experiments in this direction the past year did not prove satisfactory and the company will do most of its buying this year on the brakes.

Paducah, according to local tobacco men, is just as good a market now as any other place in comparison with other years, and will remain so. The erroneous reports published about the market going down are calculated only to lead tobacco raisers to think there is no market here, and induce them to carry their tobacco elsewhere.

FLIPPED NICKELS

IN ORDER TO DECIDE A MAN'S FATE.

Lawrenceville, Ill., Oct. 16.—In the Lawrenceville Circuit Court here a jury trying the case of the State against George Ryan, charged with assault to commit murder could not reach a verdict after being out thirty-six hours, when one of them suggested flipping nickels—heads to convict, tails to acquit. Each juror put a nickel in a hat, a shake and toss, and the nickels fell on a table, six to six, necessitating another toss. The second trial showed four heads and eight tails, resulting in acquittal. The court accepted the verdict, but did not know how it was reached until today. The State will get a new trial, and the jurors may be indicted.

Attorney W. A. Berry went to Mount Sterling today on business.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—Last bulletin gave forecast of disturbance to cross continent 12 to 18, warm wave 13 to 17, cool wave 14 to 18. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 17, cross west of Rockies by close of 18, great central valleys 19 to 21, northeastern states 22. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 17, great central valleys 19, eastern states 21. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 20, great central valleys 22, eastern states 24.

This disturbance will belong to a period of great extremes in temperature. Both the warm wave and cold wave following it will be of short duration but they will make very high and very low temperatures.

Following the storm the frost line will go far southward reaching the cotton belt. Probabilities are, however, that the cotton killing frosts will come later for the best cotton producing sections.

Not far from 15th a magnetic disturbance will occur and tornadoes are possible near that date. But probabilities are in favor of severe thunderstorms, quick temperature change going to extremes but not continuing rapid movements of storm center making quick passages across the continent.

With the exception of that disturbance near 15th we will probably have several days of quiet weather. After 24th we will probably get a rest from weather extremes except low temperatures as the month out.

CATARRH A COMMON COMPLAINT.

Catarrh begins with a stubborn cold in the head, inflammation or soreness of the membrane or lining of the nose, discharge of mucus matter, headaches, neuralgia and difficult breathing, and even in this early stage is almost intolerable. But when the filthy secretions begin to drop back into the throat and stomach, and the blood becomes polluted and the system contaminated by the catarrhal poison, then the sufferer begins to realize what a disgusting and sickening disease Catarrh is. It affects the kidneys and stomach as well as other parts of the body. It is a constitutional disease and as inhaling mixtures, salves, ointments, etc., are never more than palliative or helpful, even in the beginning of Catarrh, what can you expect from such treatment when it becomes chronic and the whole system affected? Only such a remedy as S. S. S. can reach this obstinate, deep-seated disease and purge the blood of the catarrhal poison. S. S. S. purifies and builds up the diseased blood, and the inflamed membranes are healed and the excessive secretion of mucus ceases when new, rich blood is coming to the diseased parts, and a permanent cure is the result.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and a reliable remedy for Catarrh in all stages. Write if in need of medical advice; this will cost you nothing.

THE HARE AND THE TORTOISE.

Find a Fox.

The Hare one day, laughing at the Tortoise for his slowness and general unwieldiness, was challenged by the latter to run a race. The Hare, looking on the whole affair as a great joke, consented, and the Fox was selected to act as umpire and hold the stakes. The rivals started, and the Hare, of course, soon left the Tortoise far behind. Having reached midway to the goal, she began to play about, nibble the young herbage, and amuse herself in many ways. The day being warm, she even thought she would take a little nap in a shady spot, as, if the Tortoise should pass her as he slept, she could easily overtake him again before he reached the end. The Tortoise meanwhile plodded, unwavering and unrelenting, straight towards the goal. The Hare, having overslept herself, started up from her nap, and was surprised to find that the Tortoise was nowhere in sight. Off she went at full speed, but, on reaching the winning post, found that the Tortoise was already there, waiting for her arrival.

WILLING TO RUN

SENATOR FAIRBANKS WOULD ACCEPT VICE PRESIDENT NOMINATION.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 16—It is given out from sources most intimate with the plans of Senator Charles W. Fairbanks that he will accept the vice presidential nomination if the Republican party offers it to him. It is to be understood, however, that the senator is not to be looked upon as in any manner seeking the nomination. He will not oppose the movement that has recently been set on foot to induce him to accept the place, and, if this movement ends with the national convention offering him the nomination, he will accept it. It is also known to-night definitely that the influential Republican politicians who have recently visited the Indiana senator urged him to become the candidate. To these men Senator Fairbanks outlined his course and attitude, and it was looked upon as satisfactory.

"Senator Fairbanks," said the informant tonight, "is to be looked upon

$1000 AWARDED

THIS IS THE AMOUNT TO BE PAID FOR MECHANICSBURG PROPERTY.

The case of the Illinois Central against the Paducah Coöperage company to condemn a strip of land in Mechanicsburg on the defendant's property for a spur track was decided in Judge Lightfoot's court yesterday afternoon by the defendant's being awarded $1,000 for the property. The commissioners appointed by the court to value the property fixed it at $1650 to which the company objected. A trial was then held with the result that $1,000 was fixed as the price.

BRYAN IS SNUBBED

Will Not be Allowed to Speak in Kentucky.

The Machine Does Not Want to Offend the Gold Bugs at Louisville.

MANY BRYAN MEN INDIGNANT

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 16—The Democratic campaign committee in this state has established a quarantine against Mr. William Jennings Bryan, and will prevent him from speaking in any part of the state. All invitations to Mr. Bryan to speak in Kentucky have been recalled.

Mr. Bryan was booked to speak in Louisville next Monday and to make other speeches at different points in the state. It was decided, however, that Mr. Bryan's speaking here would seriously hamper the party by repelling various gold bug Democrats, who were considering returning to the party in order to assist in reorganization. Strenuous efforts were immediately made to sidetrack Mr. Bryan, and finally the Democratic committee induced the Democrats of Woodfield, O., to invite Mr. Bryan to speak there on Monday. A delicate message was sent to Mr. Bryan that no objection would be made in the event he chose to accept the Ohio invitation over his Kentucky engagement. An unofficial message is also understood to have been sent to Mr. Bryan urging him to go to Ohio and not to speak in Kentucky, and he, of course, determined to do so.

The slight to Mr. Bryan is considered nothing less than an open insult by his friends in Kentucky, while it is not believed that it will do the party any real good with the mass of the Gold Democrats. It will be remembered that Mr. James P. Edwards speaking at the Democratic convention which nominated C. C. McChord for railroad commissioner in this district, deplored pushing free silver to the front, because he said it would hurt the feelings of some of the gold bugs in Louisville. The free silver plank went through, however, and now the whole situation is mixed by the present studied affront to Mr. Bryan.

The recent move by the campaign committee is conclusive proof that everything in the present campaign is to be sacrificed to the needs of the gang in Louisville.

In conversations with state Democrats the Louisville gang claims that they are still free silver men, but that they do not want Mr. Bryan about, and will not have him. That the state campaign committee has bowed to the dictation of the Louisville bosses and driven Mr. Bryan away, has caused widespread comment, and there is much dissatisfaction at Democratic headquarters.

It is announced that Governor Beckham will speak in Louisville, but that he has been kept away so far is a reason for congratulation at the city hall, and if he can possibly be kept away entirely it will be done, just as Mr. Bryan has been invited not to speak in Kentucky.

TO MEET IN PADUCAH

U. D. C. Will Hold Next State Convention Here.

Mrs. Joseph W. Thompson, of This City, Elected First Vice President.

ANNUAL SESSION HAS ENDED

Owensboro, Oct. 16—The Kentucky division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy adjourned last night to meet next year in Paducah.

Mrs. Basil W. Duke of Louisville, was elected honorary president and Mrs. Joseph E. Thompson, of Paducah, first vice president.

The report of the committee on monuments and cemeteries was one of the principal topics of discussion yesterday. It covers all the cities and towns where chapters exist and shows that much good work has been done by the women of the state to rescue from oblivion the names and memories of the Confederate dead.

The reports of the chapters all showed increasing interest in the work with new chapters in process of formation at several points in the state. The convention set apart October 8 of each year as a memorial day for the unknown dead, and hereafter every chapter in the state will hold a special meeting on that day in their honor.

DESKS ARE ALL RIGHT.

SUPT. HATFIELD SAYS THEY ONLY NEEDED ADJUSTMENT.

Superintendent C. B. Hatfield, of the local public schools, stated this morning that the report that the desks in the seventh grade rooms, High school building, were too small is erroneous as the reporter evidently misunderstood the explanation.

The desks are the latest model of improved adjustable desks and Superintendent of Buildings Fred Hoyer wanted to adjust the desks to the size of the pupils and when the pupils were seated, the desks of course were not adjusted right, some being too small. Mr. Hoyer, however, soon had them all properly adjusted and the pupils are more than pleased with them. They are the best and finest desks possible to procure according to the superintendent.

SMALL JUDGMENT.

SECURED IN INDIANA AGAINST A UNION

Princeton, Ind., Oct. 16.—C. B. Bruner, a contracting builder, has been awarded a $40 judgment in the circuit Court here in a suit for $9,000 against the local Carpenters' Union. He was placed on the unfair list by the union, charged with employing non-union men, and alleged that by reason of the union's action he was unable to buy material from local dealers, thereby suffering heavy loss.

JOHN'S GOOD LUCK

PAID ONLY $100 FOR SHOOTING A BLIND COUSIN.

John Rodes has compromised the charge against him for shooting his blind cousin near Ironton some time ago, and was released Monday. He compromised for something like one hundred dollars.—Cadiz Record.

BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXIONS

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver, and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

TWO DOZEN LIVES LOST.

London, Oct. 16—Advices received here today say that wreckage from the British bark Loch Long, Captain Strachan, which sailed from Noumea, New Caledonia, April 29 for Greenock, has been washed ashore at the Chanham islands and that it is feared the vessel and the 24 persons on board of her have been lost.

THE LABORING MAN'S VOTE.

The Democrats will not succeed in getting much of the labor vote of Kentucky. Mr. E. T. Frank, in a speech at Central City this week showed where Governor Beckham has never been a friend to the laboring man. He spoke in this wise:

"Mr. Beckham says that he is a friend of the laboring man. The laboring men of Kentucky would like to know just when this great change of heart took place. Has he committed any act since he has been filling an office to which some one else was elected that would cause the laboring men of Kentucky to fall over each other to get to vote for him? He says that his record is his platform. If that be true then let us proceed to examine that record. I hold in my hand the House Journal of 1896 which records the official acts of each and every member of the legislature and if you will turn to page 622 you will find that the house had under consideration house bill 169 an act entitled an act to regulate the payment of laborers in this state."

Mr. Franks here read the act.
"This bill was immediately put upon its passage, the vote resulted in 48 yeas and 44 nays and the bill passed a Republican house by four majority, nearly all the Republicans voting for the bill and nearly all the Democrats voting against it. Prominent among those voting against the bill were J.
C. W. Beckham, W. P. Thorne and J.
Morgan Chinn, now candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and clerk of the court of appeals on the Democratic ticket, and had it not been for a Democratic senate this bill would have become a law.

"It was what was known as the two weeks' pay bill that every laboring man in the state is interested in. Not satisfied with this Mr. Grossman the next day moved to reconsider the vote by which it passed the house and notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Beckham, Mr. Thorne and Mr. Chinn had all voted over the matter, they would not reconsider, yet they are very much interested in the welfare of the laboring man just at this time, but they reserve the right to be against him just as soon as the election is over provided he wants his pay every two weeks."

FOUND THE MARK.
Democratic papers seem to be tickled over Mr. W. J. Bryan's hot criticism of Senator Marcus Hanna at a speech Mr. Bryan made a few days ago in Ohio. Senator Hanna, it seems, incurred the wrath of the Hon. Tom Johnson element of Democracy by saying that its teachings were partly responsible for the class hatred which results in such lamentable deeds as the assassination of President McKinley.
We know of no one who could more justifiably get ruffled over the accusation than Mr. Bryan, who is the vaunted leader and champion of all the narrow, disgruntled and unscrupulous people in the country. The hit dog howls and Mr. Bryan is making the most noise. He is quite excusable in resenting the cutting words of Senator Hanna, which he knows are only too true. If the danger that lurks in accepting the inflammatory, anarchistic teachings of such Democrats as Bryan and Johnson were not repudiated by the people of the United States the country would indeed soon be in bad straits.

Mr. Bryan, by the way, who has always directed his anathemas at the rich—at the classes—is now a rich man himself. In accordance with his teachings he ought to give it to the worthy poor, as he couldn't have earned by work in the few years since he was poor, the $200,000 he has in bank. He has just simply got in a good graft on the people and like other men have done, and like other rich men do, takes all he can rake in.
Instead of going about the country abusing men in whom the people have the utmost confidence, however, he ought to subside and spend his modest competency in peace and luxury. The people of the United States have twice repudiated him, and he should now disappear from view as a commodity with no marketable value.

There is no apparent occasion for any of the newspapers, especially those of the Billy-Bryan-Or-Bust stripe, throwing fits over the shipyard trust's troubles, and the charges that Mr. Charles M. Schwab skinned somebody in one of the deals. It does not appear from a cursory consideration of the case that the good people of the country have lost anything, and if some of the magnates were fleeced they simply got beat at their own game and are doubtless well able to stand it, and if they can stand it the rest of us ought to manage to survive.
It strikes the casual observer that the average man nowadays is out to get a little the best of it in every business deal he makes, and if Mr. Schwab was able to buy a steel plant for $7,000,000 and sell it for $30,000,000, isn't it a fairly good indication that he is fully up to snuff, even for these strenuous times? How many men are there who would not have done the same thing had they possessed the brains and opportunity?

Evidences of the unfairness of the present jury system which permits partisan, prejudiced, corrupt, as well as ignorant men to pass on cases often requiring a high order of intelligence, are to be found in other places as well as Kentucky. Up in Vincennes, Indiana, the other day an ingenious jury, being unable to agree, decided to toss up a nickel and if heads came up the most it would be acquittal, and if tails, conviction. It turned out to be acquittal. It must be encouraging for persons whose life, liberty or property is at stake in court, however, to know that our jury system has degenerated into a game of matching nickles.

Tuesday next is registration day, and those who did not register on the first day must register then or lose their vote until next registration day, a year from now. All Republicans are urged to turn out and register Tuesday. Remember the day, next Tuesday. The polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 9 p. m.

The Missouri supreme court, which

STRUNG UP TO A TREE

Tom Hall, Taken From Paducah
Yesterday, Lynched Last Night.

Orderly Mob Swooped Down on the Wickliffe Jail and Had No Trouble Getting Him.

HALL CLAIMED TO BE INNOCENT

Tom Hall, the negro accused of shooting Crockett Childress, white, at Kevil, Ballard county, a small station on the Cairo extension of the L. O., sixteen miles below Paducah, last Sunday night in a miniature race war, was taken from the jail at Wickliffe this morning at 1 o'clock and hanged to a tree by an orderly mob which performed its work so quietly that even the nearby residents to the jail did not know a lynching was in progress.

Hall was taken to Wickliffe yesterday morning by Sheriff Lee Potter of Paducah who turned him over to Jailer Z. T. Dulworth about 12:30 yesterday afternoon. Hall was safely locked in a cell to await trial, the jailer never dreaming of the probability of mob violence.

This morning about 1 o'clock Jailer Dulworth was awakened by a knock on his residence door adjoining the jail, and hastily donning his clothes went to the door, thinking that some one had arrived with a prisoner. Instead of seeing a blue-coated minion of the law he beheld about half a hundred masked men covering him with more than half that number of guns and pistols. All were masked except one man whom Jailer Dulworth says he could not recognize, having never seen him before.

The spokesman demanded Tom Hall, the prisoner lately incarcerated, and threatened no violence towards the jailer unless he refused. Dulworth seeing the only way to escape injury was to accede to the demands accordingly turned the prisoner over to the mob.

Hall was marched out of the jail without any special violence, except in one case when he was struck in the head by one member of the mob, using a pistol as a weapon. He tried to offer an explanation to the leaders but they turned a deaf ear, saying that they knew what they were doing and intended to have justice done.

When they had reached the yard with the terror-stricken prisoner they pulled a rope around his neck and with out any ceremony threw the other end over a walnut tree branch and hung him. Hall, while greatly frightened, died game. Jailer Dulworth, who had been held back by members of the mob until it was too late for him to raise an alarm, was forced to witness the entire proceeding, unable to protect the doomed man left in his custody.

After the hanging was over the mob dispersed and this morning about 9 o'clock the body of the unfortunate negro was cut down by Coroner Dan Enlow and will be buried in the potter's field at Wickliffe.

There was but little excitement attending the mob's visit to the jail and Jailer Dulworth stated that a more orderly body of men could not have been formed for such a purpose. He said that they were determined to have the negro and that resistance was useless.
After the mob had dispersed, he raised an alarm but too late to render any assistance or to effect the detection of any members of the mob.

Crockett Childress, the white boy who was shot, supposedly by Hall, is still alive but can not possibly, it is thought, recover. He was asked this morning again if he was sure Hall was the right man, and stated that he did.
Manard Reed, who had the pistol duel with Hall, also states that he is positive that Hall is responsible for the condition of young Childress. Reed states that he engaged in a close range duel with Hall and shot him once, and Hall bore the bullet wound to his grave. Reed states that the negro he shot was the one doing the shooting on the colored side, and that no mistake in the man could have been made.

The authorities at Wickliffe have made no special effort to learn the leaders of the mob, but it is supposed they were friends of Childress. The residents about Woodville, where Childress lived, claim that no mob formed there last night and that it has been suggested that the mob lived at Cairo.
Childress was informed of the lynching this morning and when the news was related said nothing, the story seemingly not having affected him in the least.

Hall is a Mississippi negro and was wanted at Mayfield, Ky., for shooting Bob McAllister, colored, over two years ago. He is known in some localities as Tom Douglas, and had the reputation of being a desperate negro.
Hall was interviewed Monday morning in the jail here and stated that he did not do any shooting and that the negro who is supposed to have shot Childress is Jim Rivers, who has since made a hasty departure from Kevil and vicinity.

Yesterday soon after Sheriff Potter left with his prisoner, a telephone message was received here by Deputy Jailer Harry Rudolph asking information relative to when Hall was taken back and which way he was taken, whether by river, or railroad and the information was given, but Mr. Rudolph does not know who it was who made inquiry. It is supposed by this that the mob was contemplating forming then and was seeking the information in order that the plans be carried through without a hitch. Jailer Dulworth was not apprised of this and was wholly unprepared for the mob.

There is but little excitement today at Wickliffe, resulting from the mob's work.

CONVENTION OVER

Mr. S. A. Fowler Returned This Morning From Evansville.

Much Good Accomplished at This Meeting of Ohio Valley Association.

Mr. Saunders A. Fowler, one of the delegates to the ninth annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, returned this morning from Evansville, having some business that called him home a day before the others.

The remaining delegates will return home this evening.

Mr. Fowler reports the most successful meeting in the history of the association. There was a large crowd, and much enthusiasm was shown. It was arranged to not only put the necessity for Ohio river improvements before congress, but before President Roosevelt personally as well.

The old officers were re-elected and Mr. Fowler was made vice president of the association for Kentucky. A more earnest and energetic worker could not have been picked for the place.

The delegates were yesterday afternoon entertained at Cook's park, Evansville, and the barbecue is said to have been one of the finest on record.

Yesterday afternoon a telegram from President Roosevelt expressing his sympathy with the movement looking to the improvement of the Ohio river, and pledging any aid he can command, was received by the convention. Other prominent men also sent letters of regret at being unable to attend. Huntington, W. Va., was chosen as the place of meeting next year. Several strong addresses in favor of river improvement were made. Resolutions, adopted at the Parkersburg convention last fall urging congress to take prompt action regarding river work, were reaffirmed yesterday.

FINGERS MANGLED

PAINFUL ACCIDENT TODAY TO
COMPANY.

Charles Powley, white, an employe of the Paducah Cooperage Co., while working with a planer in the turning room of the drying department this morning, got his right hand caught in the machinery and the ends of the fingers badly mashed and cut up. Dr.
J. S. Troutman was called and dressed the wounds.

ALL REPUBLICANS SHOULD NOT FORGET TO REGISTER
NEXT TUESDAY, THE LAST CHANCE THIS YEAR.

ONE CASE

POLICE COURT WAS NOT OF GREAT LENGTH TODAY.

The only case in police court today was that against Jim Taylor, colored, alias "Alabama Kid," charged with stealing $90 from Will Jackson, white, a Mayfield man. More evidence was heard and the case was left open for further testimony.

MARCHED MERRILY ON

Veterans in Grey are Cheered Lustily as They Pass.

"Dixie" Enlivened Their Step As They Trooped Out Broadway This Afternoon.

PROGRAM OF THE DAY

The feature of the second and last day of the reunion of the Second Brigade, Confederate Veterans, was the big parade this afternoon at 1:30. The veterans formed at First and Broadway and headed by Dean's band marched out Broadway towards the fair grounds. The parade was several squares long and the crowd that lined Broadway manifested much enthusiasm over the veterans and the stirring strains of "Dixie." The old soldiers were cheered from time to time by those along the streets and the cheering was promptly responded to all along the entire line.

The procession was broken in several places where old veterans unable to walk fast had dropped out of the line.
Many of those who were crippled so as to render them unable to keep the steady march up, were mounted but there were some few who preferred
"footing it."

Squads of company I, the local state guard company, escorted the grizzled heroes.

Yesterday's program was one of uninterrupted pleasure. Hundreds partook of the delightful barbecued dinner at the fair grounds, and at 5 o'clock supper was served. Most of the veterans came back to the city then and spent the evening walking about at the hotels, or visiting friends and relatives.

The reception at the Palmer yesterday afternoon was well attended, and everybody seemed glad at the hospitality shown.

The speech making in the afternoon was a feature, General Briggs, General Lawton and many others making addresses.

A number of the old soldiers slept at the fair grounds last night and had a camp fire.

The vets were up bright and early today and had breakfast at the fair grounds about 8 o'clock.

The business meeting and "love feast" was from 9:30 until 11, and many were present. The remainder of today's program is as follows:

From 11 o'clock a. m. to 12:30 p.
m. brigade under orders of Brigadier General Briggs.

At noon, staff with chief marshal and aides reported to General Briggs at Palmer house.

Parade formed at First and Broadway.

Company I, Third Kentucky, K. S.
G., of Paducah, escort to brigade.
Eight privates under lieutenant on front; six privates on the flanks and the brigade and remainder acting as rear guard to the parade.

ORDER OF PARADE.

Chief marshal and aides mounted.
Brigadier general and staff mounted.
Colonel H. S. Hale, Seventh regiment and staff mounted, followed by camps of his regiment.

Colonel T. J. Johnson, First regi-

IT WORKS

THE LABORER EATS FOOD THAT WOULD WRECK AN OFFICE MAN.

Men who are actively engaged at hard work can sometimes eat food that would wreck a man who is more closely confined.

This is illustrated in the following story: "I was for 12 years clerk in a store working actively and drank coffee all the time without much trouble until after I entered the telegraph service.

"There I got very little exercise and drinking strong coffee my nerves grew unsteady and my stomach got weak and I was soon a very sick man. I quit meat and tobacco and in fact I stopped eating everything which I thought might affect me except coffee but still my condition grew worse and I was all but a wreck.

"I finally quit coffee and commenced to use Postum a few years ago and I am speaking the truth when I say my condition commenced to improve immediately and today I am well and can eat anything I want without any bad effects, all due to shifting from coffee to Postum Cereal Coffee.

"I told my wife today I believed I could digest a brick if I had a cup of Postum to go with it. We make it according to directions boiling it full 20 minutes and use good rich cream and it is certainly delicious." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The barlow knife will from this time on doubtless become a salient feature of the Democratic campaign and the "wise boys" with oratorical livings in their mouths will be expected to take up the cue and work it for all it is worth.

Several days ago the Georgetown jailer was told by a prisoner that he had seen Caleb Powers with a barlow knife in his cell. The jailer called for it and Powers turned it over without protest. When the ever watchful Robert Franklin heard about the knife he turned pale with fright, had a nervous chill, and then recovering his equanimity sent for the "murderous weapon" and had it photographed. The people of Kentucky will be glad to know that Mr. Franklin has had the foresight to have this knife photographed before some wicked Republican destroys it in order to get rid of damaging evidence of a deep laid plot to cut off the heads of the guards, break out of prison, assassinate Judge Robbins, eliminate Tom Campbell's whiskers and then make a break for the mountain fastnesses.

There are times when the desire to look upon an exact photographic production of a real bonafide ten cent barlow knife becomes absolutely staggering and Mr. Franklin can fill a long felt want by having the photograph reduced to a cut and published in all the papers of the state so that the people may study the murderers outlines of the thing at their own homes and feel the exquisite thrill of horror that prostrated Mr. Franklin when the "weapon" was finally discovered.

A barlow knife is a singular institution and capable of widespread devastation in the hands of a man like Caleb Powers, especially when locked up in a cell where he has such an excellent opportunity to use it. They have been utilized since time immemorial by small boys in excavating for fishing worms, by teachers to cut switches to whip bad unrulins, by foraging "darkies" to stab water-melons in the palelight of the moon; in fact, all humanity since the discovery of the vast and variable utilities of the ordinary pocket knife have warmed up to the barlow as an indispensable adjunct, but this is the first time on record that the barlow knife has been injected into a state political campaign to stand or fall on its merits, to win or lose by the engaging individuality of its own unique self.

Let us have the picture of the barlow knife by all means.

The Charleston returned into Tennessee river yesterday.

ROBS POST-OFFICES

An Incurable Criminal in Jail at Cairo, Ill.

Has Already Served Five Terms in the Penitentiary—Express Men Strike.

BUSINESS IS ALL TIED UP

A VETERAN ROBBER.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 16—Walter Hyatt, one of the most notorious postoffice robbers in the west, was tried in the United States district court here for robbing the postoffice at Towanda, McLean county, and New Baden, Clinton county. Hyatt pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a term of ten years in the penitentiary at Chester. Yesterday he was brought to trial on the charge of robbing the postoffice at Springfield Junction, March 13, but although he had confessed to Postoffice Inspector T. B. Laughlin, of the Chicago district, he entered a plea of not guilty. Hyatt's record is perhaps unsurpassed in the annals of the court. He has served five terms in penitentiaries at Jeffersonville, Ind., Chester, Ill., Mt. Madison, Ia., Albany, N. Y., and Columbus, O., all for postoffice robberies. Recently he was arraigned in Madison county for holding up a man, and he wrote Postoffice Inspector Laughlin and confessed to the robberies for which he has been sentenced here. Mr. Laughlin says that Hyatt seemed to feel a debt of gratitude to him and made the confession with that thought in mind, for through the influence of Mr. Laughlin the judge at Council Bluffs, Ia., who tried Hyatt, reduced his sentence to two years because he had given the inspector information that led to the capture of safe burglars in Indiana. Hyatt is 44 years old. He will be indicted at Indianapolis Tuesday, November 3, for robbing the postoffice at Lena, Ind., and by the time he will have served all his sentences he will be past the age allotted to man. He was violent yesterday when placed in the county jail and swore that he would not be taken from the building alive. A dangerous looking knife was found on his person and was taken from him. Inspector Laughlin says that Hyatt has a mania for robbing postoffices, and that he told him that if a postoffice safe with $25 in it and one in a store containing $1,000 were in his vicinity he would rob the postoffice safe in preference to the other. Hyatt will be taken to Chester. James Ryan, aged 17 years, and James Rainey, who were convicted of being accomplices of Hyatt in the Towanda robbery, were sentenced to one and three years in the penitentiary, respectively.

Nerves

As Steady as Clock Work.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Made Them So

After Years of Heart and Nerve Trouble.

Weak and hungry spells indicate a nervous affection of the heart. The nerves are not getting the nourishment they need, and unless treatment is speedily begun, disastrous results are sure to follow. When strengthened, invigorated and restored to their normal state the nervous system abounds in energy, vitality and nerve-force, and successfully resists the attack of disease and decay. Dr. Miles' Nervine is the true nervine, furnishing, as it does, the exact element of nourishment and strength which the shattered nervous system requires, so that good results, noticeably pronounced, follow the giving of the first few doses. It is a wonderful nerve specific.

"For many years I was a sufferer from heart and nervous troubles. I would have spells when I would be uncommonly hungry even after eating; headache, sour stomach, gripping pains, weak, trembling, spells, sometimes quite severe. The doctor gave me only temporary relief from pain and I decided to try Dr. Miles' Remedies. I began with one bottle of the Heart Cure and one of the Restorative Nervine, and they helped me so much that I got some more. When I had taken six bottles my nerves were as steady as clock-work. I could eat anything I wanted and as much as I wanted without it hurting me. I thank Dr. Miles for the good it has done me."—JOHN B. ADAMS, Glenn, Ga.

A WOMAN'S COMPLEXION.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or greenishness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatment as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists. DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Theatrical Notes.

Murray and Mack will be here on November 20.

Al G. Field is the next minstrel to come to Paducah and will be here November 30.

Mr. Gallagher, in advance of "The Devil's Auction," one of Yale's well known productions coming on October 28, was in the city.

A pretty love story; an historical production; a scenic spectacle, and handsome Richard Buhler the hero of it all, is embodied in "Paul Revere" at The Kentucky tomorrow matinee and night.

Hal Reid's masterpiece, "At Orippe Creek," is booked for an engagement at The Kentucky next Thursday night. This play deals with life in the Rocky Mountains and the characters include miners, Indians, half breeds and hardy westerners, with novelty in the way of a girl from the New England states.

Gertrude Coghlan has changed the name of the play in which she is now appearing from "The Last of the Bois-sac" to "The Sword of Justice." Although this change has entailed considerable expense she feels that the new title gives a better idea of the scope and character of the play in which she is starring. The play is the most successful vehicle that she has ever used.

ALICE of OLD VINCENNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1906, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

The great truth dawned upon Beverley that here was a characteristic act. He knew that an Indian rarely failed to repay a kindness or an injury, stroke for stroke, when opportunity offered.

"Wait here a little while," Long Hair said, and, without lingering for reply, turned away and disappeared in the wood. Beverley was free to run if he wished to, and the thought did surge across his mind, but a restraining something like a hand laid upon him would not let his limbs move. Down deep in his heart a calm voice seemed to be repeating Long Hair's Indian sentence, "Wait here a little while."

A few minutes later Long Hair returned bearing two guns, Beverley's and his own, the latter a superb weapon given him by Hamilton. He afterward explained that he had brought these, with their bullet pouches and powder horns, to a place of concealment near by before he awoke Beverley.

Delay could not be thought of. Long Hair explained briefly that he thought Beverley must go to Kaskaskia. He had come across the stream in the direction of Vincennes in order to set his warriors at fault. The stream must be recrossed, he said, farther down, and he would help Beverley a certain distance on his way, then leave him to shift for himself. He had a meager amount of parched corn and buffalo meat in his pouch which would stay hunger until they could kill some game. Now they must go.

They flung rifles behind them before day dawn, Long Hair leading, Beverley pressing close at his heels. Most of the way led over flat prairies covered with water, and they therefore left no track by which they could be followed.

Late in the forenoon Long Hair killed a deer at the edge of a wood. Here they made a fire and cooked a supply which would last them for a day or two, and then on they went again. But we cannot follow them step by step. When Long Hair at last took leave of Beverley the occasion had no ceremony. It was an abrupt, unemotional parting. The stalwart Indian simply said in his own dialect, pointing westward:

"Go that way two days. You will find your friends."

Then without another look or word he turned about and stalked eastward at a marvelously rapid gait. In his mind he had a good tale to tell his warrior companions when he should find them again—how Beverley escaped that night and how he followed him a long, long chase only to lose him at last under the very guns of the fort at Kaskaskia. But before he reached his band an incident of some importance changed his story to a considerable degree. It chanced that he came upon Lieutenant Barlow, who in pursuit of game had lost his bearings and, far from his companions, was beating around quite bewildered in a watery solitude. Long Hair promptly murdered the poor fellow and scalped him with as little compunction as he would have skinned a rabbit, for he had a clever scheme in his head, a very audacious and outrageous scheme, by which he purposed to recoup to some extent the damages sustained by letting Beverley go.

Therefore when he rejoined his somewhat disheartened and demoralized band he showed them the scalp and gave them an eloquent account of how he tore it from Beverley's head after a long chase and a bloody hand to hand fight. They listened, believed and were satisfied.

CHAPTER XVI.

FATHER BERE'S OLD BATTLE.

THE room in which Alice was now imprisoned formed part of the upper story of a building erected by Hamilton in one of the four angles of the stockade. It had no windows and but two oblong portholes made to accommodate a small swivel which stood darkly scowling near the middle of the floor. Day after day her loneliness and helplessness became more agonizing. Farnsworth, it is true, did all he could to relieve the strain of her situation, but Hamilton had an eye upon what passed and soon interfered. He administered a bitter reprimand, under which his subordinate writhed in speechless anger and resentment.

"Finally, Captain Farnsworth," he said in conclusion, "you will distinctly understand that this girl is my prisoner, not yours; that I, not you, will direct how she is to be held and treated, and that hereafter I will suffer no interference on your part. I hope you fully understand me, sir, and will govern yourself accordingly."

Smiling, or, rather, smothering, under the outrageous insult of these remarks, Farnsworth at first determined to fling his resignation at the governor's feet and then do whatever desperate thing seemed most to his mood. But a soldier's training is apt to call a halt before the worst befalls in such a case. Moreover, in the present temptation Farnsworth had a special check and hindrance. He had had a conference with Father Beret, in which the good priest had played the part of wisdom in slippers and of gentleness more dove-like than the dove's. A very subtle impression, illuminated with the "hope that withers hope," had come of that interview, and now Farnsworth felt its restraint. He therefore saluted Hamilton formally and walked away.

Father Beret's paternal love for Alice—we cannot characterize it more nicely than to call it paternal—was his justification for a certain mild sort of corruption insinuated by him into the heart of Farnsworth. He was a crafty priest, but his craft was always used for a good end. Unquestionably Jesuitic was his mode of circumventing the young man's military scruples by offering him a puff of fair weather with which to sail toward what appeared to be the shore of delight. He saw at a glance that Farnsworth's love for Alice was a consuming passion in a very ardent yet decidedly weak heart. Here was the worldly lever with which Father Beret hoped to raise Alice's prison and free her from the terrible doom with which she was threatened.

The first interview was at Father Beret's cabin, to which, as will be remembered, the priest and Farnsworth went after their meeting in the street. It actually came to nothing, save an indirect understanding but half suggested by Father Beret and never openly sanctioned by Captain Farnsworth. The talk was insinuating on the part of the former, while the latter slipped evasively from every proposition, as if not able to consider it on account of a curious obtuseness of perception. Still, when they separated they shook hands and exchanged a searching look perfectly satisfactory to both.

The memory of that interview with the priest was in Farnsworth's mind when, boiling with rage, he left Ham-

"It's an outrage!" he broke forth.

Ilton's presence and went forth into the chill February air. He passed out through the postern and along the sodden and queasy edge of the prairie, involuntarily making his way to Father Beret's cabin. His indignation was so great that he trembled from head to foot at every step. The door of the place was open and Father Beret was eating a frugal meal of scones and sour wine (of his own make, he said), which he hospitably begged to share with his visitor. A fire smoldered on the hearth, and a flat stone showed, by the grease smoking over its hot surface, where the cakes had been baked.

"Come in, my son," said the priest, "and try the fare of a poor old man. It is plain, very plain, but good." He smacked his lips sincerely and fingered another scone. "Take some, take some."

Farnsworth was not tempted. The acid bouquet of the wine filled the room with a smack of vinegar, and the smoke from rank scorching fat and wheat meal did not suggest an agreeable feast.

"Well, well, if you are not hungry, my son, sit down on the stool there and tell me the news."

Farnsworth took the low seat without a word, letting his eyes wander over the walls. Alice's rapier, the mate to that now worn by Hamilton, hung in its curiously engraved scabbard near one corner. The sight of it inflamed Farnsworth.

"It's an outrage!" he broke forth. "Governor Hamilton sent a man to Roussillon place with orders to bring him the scabbard of Miss Roussillon's sword, and he now wears the beautiful weapon as if he had come by it honestly. Curse him!"

"My dear, dear son, you must not soil your lips with such language!" Father Beret let fall the half of a well bitten cake and held up both hands.

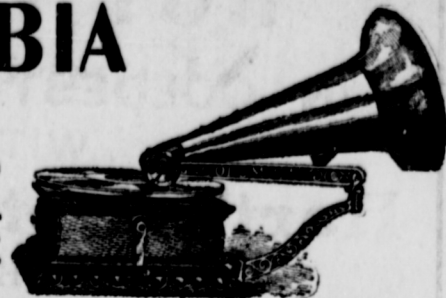

"I beg your pardon, father. I know I ought to be more careful in your presence, but—but—the beastly scoundrel!"

"Bah! Doucement, mon fils, doucement." The old man shook his head and his finger while speaking. "Easy, my son, easy. You would be a fine target for bullets were your words to reach Hamilton's ears. You are not permitted to revile your commander."

"Yes, I know; but how can a man restrain himself under such abominable conditions?"

KENTUCKY AVENUE.

FORMALITIES ARE ABOUT COMPLETE FOR THE CHANGE.

Paducah no longer has a "Court Street." The municipal boards at the instance of Capt. Joe Fowler have changed the name to "Kentucky Avenue," and the change will be effective as soon as the boards order the city engineer to change the name on the maps, etc. The change is now practically made, the ordinance having been passed, signed, and published, but the boards must formally order the engineer to make the change on the records before every formality is complete.

Court street took its name from the old court house, which in the pioneer days set near the intersection of what was Court street, and the market place.

CABLE REPAIRED

A SECTION REMOVED AND THE TROUBLE ENDS.

The Western Union's cable across the Ohio river here has been repaired and the linemen from Chicago will return home today. The idea of shortening it by running it across to the opposite shore instead of to Brookport was abandoned, and the trouble was remedied by a section being cut out and a new piece joined in. The cable is now in good working order for the first time in months.
